CHAPTER 1. THE FIRST THING
1

A sentence that the layout wrapped across lines, so the text arrives with a break in the middle of it and the importer has to join it back together before any of it can be spoken aloud.

A word split across the line break, like algorithm, is the other thing that has to be repaired.

CHAPTER 2. THE SECOND THING

3

Paragraph one of chapter two is deliberately short.

Paragraph two begins after a blank line, so a paragraph boundary is something the importer can still see.

The last page of the second chapter ends the fixture.
